

What Members are Saying about NOCA

Being a NOCA Member is Professionally Valuable to Me Because....

“ It certainly helps to have NOCA as a reference for any and ALL certification inquiries that may arise. I attended the annual conference for the first time last year and was completely amazed on how united the certification industry was and the information I gathered while I was there helped my organization tremendously. From the networking to the courses, we have incorporated several of the systems into our day-to-day operations. ”

— Adrienne Segundo, Deputy Director of Operations,
National Board for Certification in Dental Laboratory Technology

“ [NOCA is] an excellent resource for finding answers to the issues that arise in the credentialing profession. ”

— Jeffrey Kenney, Executive Director,
National Council for Interior Design Qualification

“ We find it important to keep up with what others are doing and thinking in the field. [We] use the webinars and other written material to help us with our job of creating, administering and defending examinations. ”

— Eunice Filar, Psychometrician, Florida Department of Health

National Organization for Competency Assurance

Your Source for Credentialing Solutions

Your Invitation to Join NOCA

Become a member of the National Organization for Competency Assurance (NOCA) to collaborate with your colleagues on credentialing issues, gain access to critical industry trends, and be represented on federal regulations and legislative issues. Join the committed members that support NOCA's vision to be the worldwide leader in promoting credentialing excellence through education, innovation, and advocacy.

Established in 1977, NOCA is the industry leader in setting quality standards and providing best practices for its members. NOCA's mission is to promote excellence in credentialing worldwide, and we fulfill our mission by providing you with the tools and resources that foster your success and enhance your reputation in your marketplace.

Membership provides you with indispensable benefits:

- Expertise and guidance on credentialing best practices;
- Development and implementation of standards for accreditation through NOCA's accrediting body, the National Commission for Certifying Agencies (NCCA);
- Exceptional educational and networking opportunities;
- Representation of critical industry issues on Capitol Hill; and,
- Career development opportunities.

Being a member of NOCA is a key component of your professional success. We invite you to join today.

Involvement in the Credentialing Industry

NOCA is deeply involved in the credentialing industry and fosters relationships with key organizations in the areas of certification, certificates, accreditation, test publishing, licensure, and regulation. NOCA leverages its industry knowledge to provide quality educational resources and best practices that enable organizations to enhance certification program quality and improve all aspects of their programs.

Community and Value—Essential Components of NOCA Membership

Becoming a member of NOCA means that you are joining a community of hundreds of organizations and industry peers who, in total, represent tens of thousands of credentialed professionals in a variety of fields and industries. NOCA members have a shared commitment to consumer protection through programs that provide credible verification of an individual's knowledge and competencies. In addition to numerous collaboration and networking opportunities with experts in the field, NOCA membership offers many outstanding benefits:

- Discounted registration rates for the Annual Educational Conference—the credentialing industry's premiere forum to discuss and learn about the latest industry trends, and the NOCA Academy—a series of Web-based seminars on critical topics such as standards, governance, marketing, and legal issues.
- Publications covering industry news, advocacy updates, and exclusive member-only information.
- An Advocacy Toolkit to help your organization stay informed and involved with legislative and regulatory issues affecting your industry.
- NOCA's online member directory and the NOCA Network, our member-only discussion forum, both valuable sources for networking among credentialing professionals.
- Industry best practice templates and tools, such as policies and procedures.
- Industry benchmarking statistics and other relevant research findings.

Join other NOCA members who stay at the forefront of credentialing industry trends and issues by taking advantage of these great benefits.

NOCA Addresses Your Needs Through a Variety of Membership Categories

Organizational Members—Associations, Credentialing Organizations, Consumer Groups, and Government Agencies.

Sustaining Members—Providers of services or products to organizations that include Testing Companies, Consultants, Publishers, Public Relations and Marketing Companies, and others.

Affiliate Members—Providers of limited services to credentialing organizations, including self-employed consultants, lawyers, accountants, psychometricians, and education and seminar providers.

Individual Members—Individuals who do not meet eligibility requirements of other categories.

We encourage you to complete and submit the Membership Application included in this brochure, or join online at www.noca.org.